

Trans Legal Project Privacy Policy

This privacy policy ("policy") will help you understand how Trans Legal Project ("TLP" "us", "we", "our") uses and protects the data you provide to us when you visit and use translegalproject.org ("website", "service"). We reserve the right to change this policy at any given time. If you want to make sure that you are up to date with any changes, we advise you to frequently visit this page.

What User Data We Collect

When you visit the website, we may collect data that includes your IP address, your browser type and operating system, which pages you visit and how long you spend on them, whether you are a new or returning visitor and your location. If you contact us, via info@translegalproject.org we will record your email address and/or any other personal information you share for the purposes of responding etc.

Why We Collect Your Data

We collect your data to understand

- Where our visitors come from
- What elements of our site are most visited and are most useful to users
- How to improve our site

This data cannot be traced to identify you individually. We aggregate it only to observe trends and patterns.

Safeguarding and Securing the Data

Trans Legal Project is committed to securing any data you share and keeping it confidential. It does all in its power to prevent data theft, unauthorized access, and disclosure by implementing the latest technologies and software which help us safeguard any information we collect online.

Our Cookie Policy

Our website is hosted by wix.com and we utilise the Wix cookie policy. You can find out more at <https://support.wix.com/en/article/cookies-and-your-wix-site> You can decline cookies when you enter the site, or you can disable cookies by accessing the settings of your internet browser.

Links to Other Websites

Our website contains links that lead to other websites. If you click on these links TLP is not responsible for your data and privacy protection. Visiting those websites is not governed by this privacy policy agreement. Make sure to read the privacy policy documentation of any website you visit to which we link.

Restricting the Collection of your Personal Data

If you have already agreed to share your information with us (by email for example), feel free to contact us and we will be more than happy to change or delete this for you. TLP will not lease, sell or distribute your personal information to any third parties, under any circumstances (unless we are required to do so by law).
